"We are so delighted to have the opportunity to move into this fabulous complex which houses our media partner 99.5 All Classical, a service of WGBH, and many other prestigious companies. We are appreciative of all the help the staff at WGBH has given to us to make this possible," said Jeff Makholm, Chair of the Boston Landmarks Orchestra.

The Landmarks Orchestra's performing home is the DCR's Hatch Shell on the Esplanade, but it also performs in neighborhoods throughout the greater Boston area, always for free.

The Boston Landmarks Orchestra performs great music in wonderful places always for free. Its 2011 season will open on July 13 and run every Wednesday evening at 7 pm through August 31. A special concert will take place at PineBank in Jamaica Plain on July 31.
